

Code of Conduct

Introduction:

Our Education and Care services is committed to a code of professional conduct, upholding ethical principles and professional standards that guide decision-making and practice at the service. This includes a system of ethical inquiry to provide a basis for reflection on how to relate to and contribute to the education and care community in which we actively participate. Our service will uphold the highest standards in ethical conduct in accordance with the ECA Code of Ethics (2016) The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (1989) and service philosophy and policy.

Aim:

Our service uses this code as a basis for evaluating professional conduct, and as a reference tool for the thought processes that inform pedagogy, including actions and reactions towards professional conduct, relationships, views, influence and position within communities and society. Ethical conduct guides the behaviour and decisions within the service and is underpinned by respect for, and the valuing of children, families, educators and staff, and the extended service community.

Implementation:

The professional conduct of our team, in relation to one another, the children and their families, the community, and the Education and Care Services sector is based on the following set of expected standards of professional conduct:

- □ administer an approved education and care service in compliance with the National Quality Framework;
- □ operate within a family and child centred context;

Early Childhood Australia's (ECA) Code of Ethics (2016):

Early Childhood Australia's Code of Ethics (2016) is integral to our service as it guides the ethical principles and professional standards of conduct towards children, families, colleagues, communities, students, employers, educators, and the conduct of research.

Our service accepts professional ownership of ECA's Code of Ethics (2016) and formally acknowledges that the ECA's Code of Ethics (2016) provides us with:

- △ A basis for critical reflection about our ethical responsibilities;
- → A guide for professional behaviour;
- → Principles to inform individual and collective decision-making.

These standards of professional conduct are supported by, and should be read in conjunction with:

- □ Operational policies and procedures, which provide a framework for accountable and responsible professional practice.

The Approved Provider will:

- □ Ensure all Educators and staff are made aware of their obligations through personal discussions, staff meeting activities and opportunities to critically reflect upon ethical practice.

The Nominated Supervisor will:

- □ Ensure all educators and staff are made aware of their obligations through personal discussions, staff meeting activities and opportunities to critically reflect upon ethical practice.

Early Childhood Educators and Responsible People will:

- □ Educators and staff will be familiar with the legislation and statutory documents that apply to their role with children, families and other staff in the centre.

- → Demonstrate an ongoing engagement with the principles outlined in The Early Years Learning Frameworks and the ethical requirements in the National Quality Standards.
- □ Use staff meetings to critically reflect on practices in relation to continuing improvement.

Families will:

- □ Give feedback in relation to educators' professional conduct to the Approved Provider as necessary.
- □ Communicate to Responsible Person or staff any individual requests regarding staff/educators' code of conduct.

Evaluation:

Educators, staff and volunteers in the service will conduct themselves in an ethical manner through clear processes in accordance with legislative and statutory guidelines.

Families and staff are essential stakeholders in the policy review process and will be given opportunity and encouragement to be actively involved.

In accordance with R. 172 of the Education and Care Services National Regulations, the service will ensure that families of children enrolled at the service are notified at least 14 days before making any change to a policy or procedure that may have significant impact on the provision of education and care to any child enrolled at the service; a family's ability to utilise the service; the fees charged or the way in which fees are collected.
